Notes for JOHN HENRY TOWNDROW:

In November 1869 John was living in Cutthorpe, Brampton, Derbyshire, England and his occupation was listed as Coal Miner.

John Henry came to the United States between 1878 and 1879. He brought his family to the United States in 1880 after the birth of their son Herbert on 26 May 1880.

*****

The following article is from the book: "History of New Mexico Its Resources and People 1907".

John Henry for twenty years a rancher on Johnson Mesa, in Colfax county, New Mexico, is an Englishman. He was born in Derbyshire, England, March 19, 1852, and may be said to have been reared in the mines, as he was put to work there before he was eight years old. He continued mining in England until 1878, when he came to America. His first work in this country was in the coal mines at Brazil, Indiana, where he spent two months. Coming west to Colorado, he was eight months in the mines of Trinidad, after which he returned to Indiana and resumed work in the Brazil mines, where he remained two years. Then again we find him at Trinidad and from that place, in June 1882, he came to Blossburg, New Mexico. Here he mined four years. In June 1886, he pre-empted a claim of 160 acres and tree-claimed another 160 acres. That year he built a small house and put up sixty tons of wild hay. Then he continued mining for a time, going once a week to the ranch. In 1887 he enlarged and improved the house and moved his family here, and from that time forward the work of improving and adding to his original holdings has been carried forward until now Mr Towndrow has 1,400 acres, and his sons have land as follows: Arthur, 640 acres; Henry, 160; George 160; William, 160; Richard, 160; Herbert, 160. His first crops were oats and wheat, and later potatoes, and of recent years, while they raise a variety of crops, he and his sons have been giving their chief attention to dairying. In a single year he has sold $800 worth of butter, the average price being twenty-seven and a half cents per pound.

Having brought his family to this new home, Mr Towndrow's next care was to secure a school here for his children, and in 1889, largely through his efforts, a schoolhouse was built on the mesa. Politically he is a Republican; fraternally, a Knight of Pythias. He was a charter member of the K. of P. lodge at Raton, but now has his membership at Blossburg. November 28, 1869, Mr Towndrow married Miss Emma Treese, who proved herself a worthy helpmate and shared the joys and sorrows of life with him for nearly three decades, until she was called home, July 21, 1897. Their children are: Arthur, Henry, Joseph, George, William, Herbert, John Richard, Mary and Isabella. The last name is the wife of William Nisch (Neish).

Notes for EMMA TOWNDROW:

The following story was at one time thought to be the story of Emma & matthew but later was placed in question by the letter that follows.

Emma and Matthew were bound for Australia and their journey would take them through the port of New Orleans. They had booked passage on a ship bound for Australia and were told, along with all of the other passengers, to load their luggage aboard the ship, take a room for the night in New Orleans, and that the ship would depart the next morning. Once the ship was loaded and all the passengers had left the docks, the ship stole away in the dark, leaving the passengers stranded with only the clothes on their back. In those days it was common to hide your valuables and money in the luggage. Matthew and Emma were stranded and never left Louisiana.

"THE MATTHEW EDWARD HOWES STORY"

MATTHEW EDWARD HOWES, born 5 July 1827, in England, brought his young wife and son to America during the latter part of 1856. Coming through immigration centers in a northern port city, he carried his young son, Robert, under his great coat. Matthew Howes and his wife Emma Towndrow, daughter of Edward Towndrow, were married 2 July 1854, in St. Mary's Church, in the Parish of St. Mary Spiral, County of Middlesex, District of Whitechapel, in London. He decided to join other members of his family who were already in America living in New Orleans. In 1850, an older brother, Robert Howes, lived on Love Street in New Orleans; Samuel lived on Victory; George on Royan; and Margaret on Casacalvo Street.

Matthew Howes did not stay in New Orleans, but chose to settle on land near Tangipahoa River in what was then a part of Livingston Parish (1857). His older brother Robert had already acquired land here and had established a homestead even though he continued to live in New Orleans. For a time Matthew and his family lived near Robert's homestead, which was in the vicinity of what is now the Howes Family Cemetery and began to acquire land of his own in Section 23. On October 25, 1865, Matthew Howes was declared a citizen of the United States, having proved to the Court that he had discharged all the necessary requirements.

In December, 1868, the Howes family bought land for a new home east of Ponchatoula on the Springfield-Madisonville road, in Section 13, several miles from where they first lived. After the Civil War the area was in the throes of economic chaos owing to the Federal Policies of Reconstruction. People had to weave their own cloth and make shoes. There was a shoe last in the house-hold and a spinning wheel which was kept in the attic for many years afterward.

Although Matthew and Emma Howes were members of the Church of England, they soon began to attend and take part in church work in the small Methodist Church near their home known as Wesley Chapel. Wesley Chapel had been established as a church in 1858 and was on the Springfield Circuit with five other points. In a small one-room school house near the church the Howes children received schooling. Later, on November 25, 1889, an acre of land was donated by Robert E. Howes and Henry C. Howes (sons of Matthew) to Matthew Howes, Arthur Poche and Julius Perrin, Trustees for the Howes School House. When the First Methodist Church of Ponchatoula was organized, the official business of its inception was carried on at a circuit conference of the Springfield-Ponchatoula (Wesley Chapel) Circuit. The Howes family was well represented at this memorable occasion during the year of 1893.

Matthew Howes died 3 May 1907, and is buried in the Howes Cemetery. Emma Towndrow Howes was born 2 April, 1832, in London, England, and died 6 July 1882, and was the first to be buried in the Howes Family Cemetery. She spent practically all of her married life in Louisiana and reared a large family.

1. Robert Howes was born 19 March 1856, in London, died 14 August 1940, and is buried in the Ponchatoula Cemetery. On 18 January 1880, he married Evalyn Spence.
2. Henry C. Howes was born 12 May 1859, in Louisiana, died 9 June 1931, and is buried in the Howes Cemetery. He married 25 March 1886, to Felicity Lavigne.
3. Matthew Jeff Howes was born 30 April 1861, died 2 February 1939, is buried in the Howes Cemetery. He married Jennie Rutter on 23 February 1888.

4. George Howes was born in 1863. He married Alberta Gookin 31 August 1892. Tragedy struck the George Howes household on the 5th of October 1906, when cyclonic winds destroyed the home and killed George and his three sons, who are buried in the Howes Cemetery. His wife and infant daughter, Daisy were spared.
5. Niver Elizabeth Howes was born 31 January 1865. She never married and became a tireless worker in Methodist Church affairs. Aunt Lizzie died 2 December 1945, mourned and revered by many, buried Howes Cem.
6. Joseph William Howes was born 5 February 1867, married 18 October 1894, to Clara Lavigne, sister to Felicity. He died 25 June 1941 and is buried in the Howes Cemetery.
7. Annie E. Howes was born 31 October 1868, died 25 December 1948, buried in Howes Cemetery. Aunt Annie never married.
8. John A. Howes was born 13 July 1870, died 25 May 1894, unmarried, and is buried in Howes Cemetery.
9. Edward Albert Howes was born 15 March 1873, married 27 November 1900, to Edna Fletcher of St. Helena Parish. He died in the summer of 1940 and is buried In Howes Cemetery.
10. Louis Raymond Howes was born 7 February 1876, married 1 June 1921, to Della Hattie Hoover. ~~He~~ Uncle Lou~~e~~ was the last of this original Howes family. He died 4 September 1954, and is buried in Sandhill Cemetery east of Ponchatoula.

Such was the Howes family who brought a bit of England to Louisiana. Anyone who knew them felt the security of having reserved, self-reliant and dignified neighbors.

Notes for EDNA TOWNDROW:

Anty Edna passed away on May 5th, 2003 at 10.30 am. She had recently moved into a Nursing Home GIFFORD HOUSE, in Twickenham, Middlesex. She was quite opposed to this as she still clung on to her independence having lived in a retirement home previously, also in Twickenham. She was a spinster, was born in Calcutta, India on February 11, 1917. By profession she was a chartered accountant and while in India, had her own firm, in partnership with someone else. After I left school I initially could not get a job as a secretary because of the usual comment "you have no work experience, come back when you do have some". Aunt Edna hired me and so began my working career, just until I could get that work experience down on my resume. She hob knobbed with the best, titled people, like Indian royalty, sailed on the Queen Mary to England meeting many well known film stars i.e. Joseph Cotton (for those who might remember him)! Notes for JOSEPH TOWNDROW:

In 1910 Joe and family lived in the Raton area possibly a ranch in the Buena Vista area (which was East Raton(string town)) also at this time there were 7 children of this marriage but only 4 living. His occupation was listed as Stock Rasing-Rancher.

Tom Floyd Jr. said " That Joe was the only one of the original Towndrow boy that was all cowboy. He didn't homestead he worked for other ranches. He could remember Joe working for a ranch that was east of Folsom, New Mexico and every weekend Joe would come riding past the Floyd place on a big bay horse that took the longest stride of any horse he had ever seen, and Joe was setting tall in the saddle."

There are other storys about Joe. It was said he was quite a rounder. As the story goes he would go down to Old Mexico and bust broncs for $5.00 he was very good at riding. How ever at night he would start to party and on several occasions he would wind up with someones wife and would have to leave in a hurry with bullets flying and him crossing the Rio Grand by holding on to his horses tail to get to the other side.

Emmett Howes was a strawberry farmer and met Mildred, his future wife, when she and her sister Wilda came to work as strawberry packers.

Notes for MILDRED LOUISE PITTMAN:

[Emma00.FTW]

[Joseph04.FTW]

IN MEMORIAM: ... Mildred Howes was a homemaker of great skill and creativity and a gifted mother, grandmother and great grandmother.

Throughout her life, she practiced the gift of hospitality. Every meal was an occasion, and "drop-in" guests knew they would be greeted with joy and an invitation to stay a while and take a place of honor at the table. Almost always the meals included home grown vegetables, and often there were strawberries or blueberries they had grown and she had made into jellies or pies. Birthdays and other celebrations always featured her special chicken pot pie with lemon meringue pie for dessert.

Family was most important to Mildred, and her grandchildren and great-grandchildren were the joy of her life. They spent many hours with her, and all have many wonderful memories. Among them is that of gingerbread men - baked first for Steve, the oldest, after a reading of the old story. When the cookies were hot from the oven, Grandma turned to making frosting with which to decorate them. When she turned back to the cookies, she found, to her surprise, that their legs had been broken off (so they couldn't run away, said the culprit!). Grandma's response was a laugh of genuine pleasure, and legless gingerbread men became a Howes family tradition. Mildred will be remembered as one who exemplified 1 Corinthians 13:8 - "Love never fails."

Notes for HEZEKIAH EDWARD MOORE, JR.:
[Emma00.FTW]

[Claire00.FTW]

Hezekiah Edward Moore, Jr., (Hez Jr.), was born and raised in Benson, Arizona, though Benson was a temporary home for his parents. He always loved Arizona and would recall his adventures as a youth, hiking in the desert, climbing mountains, crossing dry river beds by hand walking the cables under the rail road trestles and surviving those adventures that boys invent. He was musically inclined, like his grandfather, and plaid the piano well, by ear. He was an avid reader, a lover of science fiction and practical science. He attended college for a short time and had a great intellect, but the coming of World War II, would interrupt his education. He went to work in the aircraft building industry in California and this is where he met my mother (Claire Maude Gray). They had their first date aboard an ironclad ship (The Elise) docked in San Diego harbor. Mother was in the same situation, her college career interrupted by the war, she was working as a "Rosey the Riveter," in an aircraft plant in California. She would eventually return to college and complete her degree, but Hez Jr., never did. Shortly after being married Hez was drafted into the Army. This was a sad occasion for them because the common fate of so many of their friends was to be drafted, trained and killed in a short period of time. However, after infantry training, the Army needed demolition people and Hez was sent to demolition school, earning his sergeants stripes there. Shortly after completing demolition school, the Army was desperate for pilots so he volunteered for pilot training. You had to be well qualified and physically fit to be considered, and most people washed out before completing the training, but Hez Jr. made it through the training. Mother recalls seeing him after some of these training sessions and says that he would be so strained that he looked like a different person, and she would not recognize him. He finished the training and became an officer and a pilot of P-47 fighter / bombers. (The Thunderbolt.) At some point, the Army Air Corps became the Air Force, so now he was an officer in the Air Force. He did not go directly into combat but flew fighter aircraft to England. On one of these trips to England, the engine on his plane quit and he thought he was going to crash into the sea. These trips took a northern route and life expectancy in the frigid water was only three minutes. The plane that he was flying, the P-47, had been dubbed "The Flying Rock" because it was all engine and had a very poor glide ratio, meaning that once the engine quit, the plane came down very fast. He spotted a freighter and was going to try to crash in front of it in the hope of being picked out of the water before freezing, but at the last moment, he got the engine started again and was able to complete the trip to England. My mother moved around the country with Hez until it was time for me to be born and she moved in with the Moores in Fulshear. This is how I came to be born in Houston. Sometime after my first birthday, she again moved to where dad was stationed. As a babe in arms, I remember one occasion when we went to see daddy on post. The building was large and olive drab; it had screen windows and was full of long tables. I assume now that this was a mess hall. In one corner was a piano and daddy was playing the piano and a crowd of men in khaki uniforms were standing around listening to him play. They would applaud when he finished a song and so mama did not interrupt. We sat at one of the tables and waited while daddy entertained. Dad was eventually sent to fly in Germany. When the War ended, the military aircraft were destroyed. He said that they took out the radios and electronic instruments, put them in a large pile and blew them up. Then they lined up the airplanes and drove a tank over the tails, crushing them so that they could never be used again. Such was the fate of the war machine. Not being needed as a pilot anymore, and having been trained in demolitions, he was given the job of destroying German bombs and weapons. He told of having collected a foot locker full of very fine German pistols, machine guns and the like but when he was ready to come back to the U.S. he heard that such things were being confiscated when men got off the ships, so he added his store of captured weaponry to the destruction pile. When he did arrive in the U.S. he said no one was checking anything and he wished that he had kept his collection. After the war, he did get his civilian pilots license but did little flying. He went to work for Delta Airlines but he was in administration and was not a pilot for Delta. His job for the Airlines moved him about the country, almost as much as the Air Force had done. I recall that by the time I entered high school, I had lived in no less than 21 states and attended over a dozen different schools. At one point, Hez Jr., left his airline job to open a Mobile gasoline station at 3900 Greenwood Rd., in Shreveport, Louisiana. This property belonged to Kelley T. Gray, my maternal grandfather. We lived there for a couple of years in a small house behind my grandfathers' house. We called it the Crack House! Being of board and batten construction, you could see cracks in the walls, and thus the name. Today you get funny looks if you tell people you were raised in a crack house. Daddy went back to work for Delta and we moved to Forest Park, Georgia. (Just outside of Atlanta.) My sister, Mary Eva Lynn Moore, a.k.a. Mary Lynn Moore, and finally Jesi Moore, (Legally changed), was born there in 1958. Robert Gray Moore, my brother had been born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana in 1952. Each of us was about seven years apart. From Forest Park, Georgia the family moved to Chicago, Illinois and then to Dallas, Texas. From this point on, I do not know the entire family goings on, because I joined the Army in February of 1962, and shipped off to Germany. The family moved back to Fulshear, to the home of my grandparents who had passed away. One day, my mother had taken the children on a trip, and my father was home alone, a neighbor smelled gas and came and rang the front door bell. Through the glass door he describes seeing my father enter the room to answer the door, but he stopped to light a cigarette. There was a major explosion, which destroyed the house, but the neighbor was not hurt. My father on the other hand spent a year in the Veterans Hospital in Houston recovering. Mama bought a house in Houston so she could be near enough to visit dad, and she lives there still. Hez Moore, Jr. made a full recovery from his burns, said by the doctors to be a miracle, and took a job in Houston. Mama finished her college degree and went to work as a schoolteacher. I stayed with them for a short time after leaving the Army in 1965, but I soon moved away again and getting married in 1968, I was off to see the world. Daddy died in February of 1972, a premature death and somewhat tragic end to a life, which can only be described as one of unrealized potential. He was brilliant, talented, soft hearted and friendly. I believe that the war was responsible for many of his shortcomings, but the scars simply did not show.

Notes for EDWARD CLARE MOORE:
[Emma00.FTW]

[Claire01.FTW]

Nehemiah 7:5

And my God put into mine heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be reckoned by genealogy.

Name: Edward, Ward of the Ed. The Ed was treasure amassed by an army. The Ed Ward was the guardian of the treasure. Clare, a county in Ireland, the name of a WWII general, and the masculine spelling of my mothers name. Moore, Celtic = Mawr, meaning Light. Variations include: Mohr = German, Moor = English, Moir = Scottish. George F. Jowett in his book "The Drama of the Lost Disciples," writes, on page 200, "According to his genealogy Lucius was son of Coel, son of St. Cyllinus, son of Caractacus, son of Bran, son of Llyr. By inter marriage he was also directly descended from Arviragus, of the Cornish-Devon Silures. This made Lucius the great-grandson of both Caractacus and Arviragus, truly a majestic heritage." "His native name was Lleurug Mawr. Because of his exemplary religious life and his outstanding achievements in church and state, he was termed in Celtic Lleuver Mawr, meaning the 'Great Light'." However, the name by which he is best known is the Latin interpretation Lucius. The Romans latinized his name to Lucius from the Latin 'Lux', which carries the same implication as the Celtic to the Romans, the 'Great Luminary'. (Circa, Ad 130 - 160) "Declaring Britain as a Christian Nation in AD 156."

MOORE - THE NAME HAS, IN THE PAST, BEEN USED TO DESCRIBE SWARTHY OR DARK SKINNED PEOPLE. THIS USAGE HAS FADED BUT GENEALOGY RESEARCHERS NEED TO BE AWARE OF THIS BECAUSE A REFERENCE TO "MOORES" MAY WELL MEAN THAT THEY WERE BLACK, NOT THAT THEY WERE NAMED MOORE. HOW THIS MEANING CAME ABOUT IS NOT AT ALL CLEAR TO ME BECAUSE THE ORIGIN OF THE NAME IS CELTIC AND IS, IN FACT, THE CELTIC WORD FOR LIGHT. THE CELTIC NAME OF THE FIRST CHRISTIAN KING OF ENGLAND WAS LLEURUG MAWR, LATER TERMED LLEUVER MAWR, WHICH LITERALLY TRANSLATES TO "GREAT LIGHT." THE ROMAN NAME FOR HIM WAS LUCIENT, BEING DERIVED FROM THE LATIN "LUX" MEANING LIGHT, SO THE NAME IS EFFECTIVELY THE SAME. KING LUCIENT WAS BAPTIZED AT AVALON ON MAY 28, A.D. 137. IN THE YEAR 156, AT THE NATIONAL COUNCIL AT WINCHESTER, HE ESTABLISHED CHRISTIANITY AS THE NATIONAL FAITH OF BRITAIN. AT THE HISTORIC ST. PETER'S ON CORNHILL CHURCH, OVER THE MANTEL OF THE FIREPLACE IN THE VESTRY, THERE IS A TABLET WHICH READS: 'BE IT KNOWNE TO ALL MEN THAT THE YEARE OF OUR LORD GOD 179, LUCIUS, THE FIRST

CHRISTIAN KING OF THE LAND, THEN CALLED BRITAIN, FOUNDED THE FIRST CHURCH IN LONDON, THAT IS TO SAY, THE CHURCH OF ST. PETER UPON CORNEHILL. AND HEE FOUNDED THERE AN ARCHBISHOPS SEE AND MADE THE CHURCH THE METROPOLITANE AND CHIEF CHURCH OF THE KINGDOME; AND SO INDURED THE SPACE OF 400 YEARS UNTO THE COMING OF ST. AUSTIN THE APOSTLE OF ENGLAND, THE WHICH WAS SENT INTO THE LAND BY ST. GREGORIE, THE DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH IN THE TIME OF KING ETHELBERT. AND THEN WAS THE ARCHBISHOPS SEE AND PALL REMOVED FROM THE FORSAID CHURCH OF ST PETER UPON CORNEHILL INTO DOROBERNIA THAT NOW IS CALLED CANTERBURIE AND THERE IT REMAINETH TO THIS DAY. AND MILLET A MONKE WHICH CAME INTO THIS LAND WITH ST. AUSTIN, HEE WAS MADE BISHOP OF LONDON AND HIS SEE WAS MADE IN ST PAUL'S CHURCH. AND THIS LUCIUS KING WAS THE FIRST FOUNDER OF ST. PETER'S CHURCH UPON CORNEHILL. AND HEE REIGNED IN THIS LAND AFTER BRUTE 1245 YEARES, AND IN THE YEARE OF OUR LORD GOD 124, LUCIUS WAS CROWNED KING AND THE YEARES OF HIS REIGN WER 77 YEARS.' KING LLEURUG MAWR DIED IN A.D. 203. FOR THE HISTORICALLY SKEPTICAL, THE TABLET SURVIVED THE GREAT FIRE OF LONDON. THE FIRST KINGS OF SCOTLAND WERE ALSO "MOORES." THE LIST IS:

1. DUNCAN (MOR), KING OF SCOTS.
2. MACOM CEANN MOR, KING OF SCOTS (SON OF DUNCAN (MOR))
3. DAVID MOR, KING OF SCOTS, (SON OF MACOM CEANN MOR AND MARGARET ATHELING, DAUGHTER OF EDWARD ATHELING)

HENRY MOR, (SON OF DAVID MOR) MARRIED ADA WILLIAM. TWO CHILDREN:

- I. WILLIAM, I (THE LION) KING OF SCOTS, (4)
- II. DAVID MOR

DAVID MOR MARRIED MAUD DE KYVELINE AND THEIR CHILD WAS ROBERT BRUCE, LORD OF ANNANDALE, WHO BY MODERN CONVENTION WOULD HAVE BEEN NAMED ROBERT BRUCE MOR. THE FIRST KING OF IRELAND WAS ONE BRIAN BOUR, A NAME WHICH SOUNDS SIMILAR, AND MAY BE A SPELLING DERIVATION OF THE NAME MOORE. CONCLUSION: ALL OF THE FIRST KINGS OF THE ENGLISH SPEAKING WORLD WERE MOORES.

IN THE 11TH GENERATION OF THE KINGS OF SCOTLAND, ROBERT III, MARRIED ELIZABETH MUIR, WHICH BRINGS US TO THE VARIOUS SPELLINGS OF THE NAME MOORE. THE SOUNDEX CODE FOR THE NAME MOORE IS M600, WHICH IS HELPFUL BECAUSE I HAVE SEEN THE NAME SPELLED THREE DIFFERENT WAYS WITHIN THE BIBLE RECORDS OF A SINGLE FAMILY (MOORE, MOOR & MUIR.) THE FOLLOWING LIST OF THE SPELLINGS OF THE NAME MOORE IS NOT EXHAUSTIVE, MOR, MORR, MAR, MARR, MUIR, MAWR, MAUR, MOER, MOHR, MORI, MORE, MOOR, MOURE, MOWRE, MAURE, MOORE, O'MOORE, MOOORE, MOORES, MORUS, AND MAURUS. NAMES LIKE MORRIS AND MEWER WERE PROBABLY, ORIGINALLY MOORES. ENGLISH SPELLING DID NOT BECOME STANDARDIZED UNTIL THE LATE 1800'S. OFTEN, PEOPLE WOULD ADOPT THE 'AMERICAN' SPELLING OF THE NAME AND THUS MOORE REMAINS IN THE TOP 15 MOST COMMON NAMES IN AMERICA, AND IS THEREFORE, VERY DIFFICULT TO RESEARCH. THE THREE "O" SPELLING LOOKS ODD BUT IS COMMON ON MANY EARLY GRAVES AND MATCHES THE CANADIAN PRONUNCIATION OF THE NAME TODAY.
